Charles Csaszar Selected for Elite Leadership Program, attends National Conference

For the fourth time, a University of Scranton student was selected for the Institute of Management Accountants' (IMA) "Jimmie Smith" Student Leadership Experience. This highly selective program chose only three students from the around the world to participate this year.

Charles Csaszar '22, Hopewell Junction, New York, participated in a series of virtual meetings from January to May, 2023, focused on governance and volunteerism. The program concluded in June with his attending the IMA's Annual Meeting in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Throughout the program, Csaszar was assigned a IMA's Global Board of Director mentor to learn more about the IMA's Global Board and explore future

IMA volunteer leadership opportunities.

The other two students selected to participate this year are at Illinois State University and Singapore Management University, Singapore.

The IMA Selection Committee only chooses students from IMA Higher Education Endorsement Program member schools to attend this experience. Approximately 100 colleges have achieved endorsement by IMA internationally. The University of Scranton received its endorsement in November 2017.

This is the fourth year a University of Scranton student has attended the prestigious IMA Student Leadership Experience. Nicholas Varianno '17, 'G18, attended in 2018, and Nhu Nguyen '19, attended in 2019, and Emma Bolye '23, attended in 2022.

Globally, IMA supports the profession through research, the Certified Management Accountant (CMA) program, continuing education, networking and advocacy of the highest ethical business practices. IMA has a global network of more than 140,000 members in 140 countries and over 300 professional and student chapters.

Csaszar was a 22, 23G with his Master of Accountancy degree with a concentration in accounting analytics. As an undergraduate, he was an accounting and philosophy double major and member of the University's Special Jesuit Liberal Arts Honors Program and its Robert L. McKeage Business Leadership Honors Program. He was a member of Phi Sigma Tau, the international honor society for students of philosophy, and Beta Alpha Psi, the international honor society for students of accounting, finance, and operations management. He was a recipient of the Accounting Department's Sophie V. West Service Award for his leadership in service activities while at Scranton. Csaszar was also a member of a team of Scranton students whose virtual presentation was selected as a "Semi-Final 8" for the 2021 IMA Case Competition. He served as an officer for the University's IMA Student Chapter that was three-times selected as one of just five IMA Outstanding Student Chapters in the nation. He completed a tax internship with PwC in the New York office and will return to PwC as a tax associate upon graduation with his master's degree.

We congratulate Charles on this achievement!

IMA Student Chapter Collects Over 50 Easter Baskets from KSOM!

Last semester, the University of Scranton IMA Student Chapter collected Easter baskets for the Center for Service and Social Justice's drive benefiting Friends of the Poor. With the support of KSOM Professors, the IMA Student Chapter was able to collect over 50 Easter baskets for the Scranton Community.

Each Easter basket contained a chocolate bunny, jellybeans, additional Easter candy, and Easter grass. We thank all those who supported and donated toward this great cause!
