

THE UNIVERSITY OF
SCRANTON
A JESUIT UNIVERSITY

The University of Scranton has an ongoing need for highly qualified part-time faculty to staff a variety of courses each semester. Part-time faculty may instruct one or more courses each semester on an "as needed" basis. We invite qualified applicants to submit their credentials online at universityofscrantonjobs.com to become part of this pool of applicants. [Note: As of June 10, 2011, only online applications will be reviewed. If you applied to teach part-time at an earlier date, you must resubmit your credentials online.] You will be notified if and when an opening occurs in the specific discipline(s) in which you have expressed interest and in which you are qualified. In the meantime, your credentials will remain active until May 31, 2012. After that date, you must update your online application in order to remain a member of the candidate pool. Please refer to individual postings online for minimum and preferred qualifications, as they vary by department. Notice will also be posted with the Pennsylvania Office of Employment Security.

Following are the University's departments:

College of Arts and Sciences:

Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computing Science, Physics/Electrical Engineering, Psychology, History, Political Science, Philosophy, Sociology/Criminal Justice, Theology/Religious Studies, Latin American Studies & Women's Studies (LA/W/S), Asian Studies, English & Theater (including Composition), World Languages & Cultures and Communication

Panuska College of Professional Studies:

Education, Nursing, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Counseling & Human Services, Health Administration & Human Resources, and Exercise Science & Sport

The Kania School of Management:

Accounting, Economics/Finance, Management/Marketing, Operations and Information Management, Master's in Business Administration (MBA)

The College of Graduate and Continuing Education:

Masters in Education & Supervision (Scranton Education Online), Masters of Business Administration Online (MBO), Masters of Human Resources Online (HRO)

The University of Scranton is, by tradition and choice, a Catholic and Jesuit University. The successful candidate will have an understanding of and commitment to the goals of Jesuit education. The University's mission statement may be found at www.scranton.edu/mission. The University is committed to developing a diverse faculty, staff, and student body and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of differences in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development and institutional success. In keeping with this commitment, the University welcomes individuals with diverse backgrounds to apply.

The University of Scranton is an EOE/Affirmative Action Employer/Educator. We invite veterans, minority persons, women and persons with disabilities to express interest in these potential opportunities.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON
A JESUIT UNIVERSITY

The University of Scranton has an ongoing need for highly qualified part-time faculty to staff a variety of courses each semester. Part-time faculty may instruct one or more courses each semester on an "as needed" basis. We invite qualified applicants to submit their credentials online at universityofscrantonjobs.com to become part of this pool of applicants. [Note: As of June 10, 2011, only online applications will be reviewed. If you applied to teach part-time at an earlier date, you must resubmit your credentials online.] You will be notified if and when an opening occurs in the specific discipline(s) in which you have expressed interest and in which you are qualified. In the meantime, your credentials will remain active until May 31, 2012. After that date, you must update your online application in order to remain a member of the candidate pool. Please refer to individual postings online for minimum and preferred qualifications, as they vary by department. Notice will also be posted with the Pennsylvania Office of Employment Security.

Following are the University's departments:

College of Arts and Sciences:

Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Computing Science, Physics/Electrical Engineering, Psychology, History, Political Science, Philosophy, Sociology/Criminal Justice, Theology/Religious Studies, Latin American Studies & Women's Studies (LA/W/S), Asian Studies, English & Theater (including Composition), World Languages & Cultures and Communication

Panuska College of Professional Studies:

Education, Nursing, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Counseling & Human Services, Health Administration & Human Resources, and Exercise Science & Sport

The Kania School of Management:

Accounting, Economics/Finance, Management/Marketing, Operations and Information Management, Master's in Business Administration (MBA)

The College of Graduate and Continuing Education:

Masters in Education & Supervision (Scranton Education Online), Masters of Business Administration Online (MBO), Masters of Human Resources Online (HRO)

The University of Scranton is, by tradition and choice, a Catholic and Jesuit University. The successful candidate will have an understanding of and commitment to the goals of Jesuit education. The University's mission statement may be found at www.scranton.edu/mission. The University is committed to developing a diverse faculty, staff, and student body and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of differences in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development and institutional success. In keeping with this commitment, the University welcomes individuals with diverse backgrounds to apply.

The University of Scranton is an EOE/Affirmative Action Employer/Educator. We invite veterans, minority persons, women and persons with disabilities to express interest in these potential opportunities.