Family Financing Plan, 2009-2010

The University of Scranton is sensitive to the challenges that families face in financing a college education. We recognize changes in economic circumstances that are impacting many of our families' ability to meet higher educational expenses. It has been our experience that students and parents prefer to be offered guidance in selecting a Family Financing Plan.

The University of Scranton recommends students and their parents develop a financing plan for all expected years of attendance. Whenever practical, students and parents should pay as much of the remaining educational expenses from savings and current income; therefore reducing the total amount financed. The University of Scranton recommends families apply for the ECSI Payment Program where monthly payments can be made instead of making lump sum payments. Secondly, students apply for the Federal Direct Stafford Loan Program. Thirdly, parents apply for the Federal Direct PLUS Loan program to meet the remaining expenses or part of the expenses. Families can do a combination of a payment plan and loans to reduce the debt. Specific information on each program and application procedures are on our Web site.

We want to assure you that the counseling and support available through our Family Financing Plan does not end with the start of the freshman year. We work with families right through to graduation.
