LTG Kevin C. Kiley, M.D., was appointed the 41st surgeon general of the Army and Commander, U.S. Army Medical Command, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, on Sept. 30, 2004.

Kiley is a graduate of the University of Scranton, with a bachelor's degree in biology. He received his medical degree from Georgetown University School of Medicine, Washington D.C. He served a surgical internship and then an obstetrics and gynecology residency at William Beaumont Army Medical Center, El Paso, Texas.

His first tour was with the 121st Evacuation Hospital in Seoul, South Korea, where he was the Chief of OB/GYN services. He returned to the residency training program at William Beaumont Army Medical Center and served as Chief, Family Planning and Counseling Service. He then served as Assistant Chief of the Department of OB/GYN.

He was assigned as the Division Surgeon of the 10th Mountain Division, a new light infantry division in Fort Drum, N.Y. He then assumed command of the newly activated 10th Medical Battalion, 10th Mountain Division, serving concurrently in both assignments. He returned to William Beaumont Army Medical Center, where he first served as the Assistant Chief, then Chairman of the Department of OB/GYN.

In November 1990, he assumed command of the 15th Evacuation Hospital at Fort Polk, La., and in January 1991, he deployed the hospital to Saudi Arabia in support of Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm. Upon his return, he was assigned as the Deputy Commander for Clinical Services at Womack Army Medical Center, Fort Bragg, N.C.

He is a graduate of the U.S. Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa. He assumed command of the Landstuhl (Germany) Regional Medical Center and what is now the U.S. Army Europe Regional Medical Command at Landstuhl, Germany, serving concurrently as the Command Surgeon, U.S. Army Europe and 7th Army.

LTG Kiley then assumed the duties of Assistant Surgeon General for Force Projection; Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations, Health Policy and Services, U.S. Army Medical Command; and Chief, Medical Corps. His next tour was as Commander of the U.S. Army Medical Department Center and School and Fort Sam Houston, where he continued as Chief of the Medical Corps. Immediately before his current assignment, LTG Kiley was commander of Walter Reed Army Medical Center and North Atlantic Regional Medical Command and Lead Agent for Region I.

He is a board-certified OB/GYN and a fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.
